Topaz
Edit and Format Content
Select a Site

Select the site to be modified and click “Go”
Edit Content

Click "Edit"
Choose content to edit or format

- Eng 231 and Eng 232
- Two courses from the group 331, 332, and 333 (Intensive Readings in Lyric, Drama, and Narrative)
- 351 or 352 (Chaucer and His Age)
- 431 (Plays of Shakespeare)
- Four other upper-division courses in English or American Language and Literature

Besides courses in English and American literature numbered 300 and above, two of the following courses carrying lower numbers may be used to fulfill part of the requirement for "four upper-division courses": ENG 235 and 236 (American Literature) and HSHU 102, 203, and 204 (University Honors). One upper-division course in writing (e.g., ENG 301, 302, 326, 327) may be included among the courses for the concentration. ENG 331, 332, 333, 431 and 432 are open only to English concentrators. View complete course offerings and course descriptions.

1. A minimum grade point average of 2.5 is required in ENG 231 and 232.
2. Concentrators who have received a grade of C or lower in the 100-level writing course (101, 103, 105) are required to include among their upper-division English offerings a course in expository or argumentative writing (ENG 326 or 327).
3. English concentrators are required to pass a comprehensive examination given in the second (spring) semester of
Highlight the text to be edited
Select Bold and Italics
Add a Tables, Maps, and More

Click to add a table, a movie clip, or a Google Map

Requirements

Eng 231 and 232 (History of English Literature)
Two courses from the group 331, 332, 351 or 352 (Chaucer and His Age) 431 (Plays of Shakespeare)
Four other upper-division courses in English or American Language and Literature

Besides courses in English and American literature numbered 300 and above, two of the following courses carrying lower numbers may be used to fulfill part of the requirement for "four upper-division courses": ENG 235 and 236 (American Literature) and HSHU 102, 203, and 204 (University Honors). One upper-division course in writing (e.g., ENG 301, 302, 326, 327) may be included among the courses for the concentration. ENG 331, 332, 333, 431 and 432 are open only to English concentrators. View complete course offerings and course descriptions.

1. A minimum grade point average of 2.5 is required in ENG 231 and 232.
2. Concentrators who have received a grade of C or lower in the 100-level writing course (101, 103, 105) are required to include among their upper-division English offerings a course in expository or argumentative writing (ENG 326 or 327).
3. English concentrators are required to pass a comprehensive examination given in the second (spring) semester of senior year. Click here for details about the senior comprehensive examination.
Special Characters

Click to add special characters

Requirements

Eng 231 and 232 (History of English Literature I and II)
Two courses from the group 331, 332, and 333 (Intensive Readings in Lyric, Drama, and Narrative)
351 or 352 (Chaucer and His Age)
431 (Plays of Shakespeare)
Four other upper-division courses in English or American Language and Literature

Besides courses in English and American literature numbered 300 and above, two of the following courses carrying lower numbers may be used to fulfill part of the requirement for "four upper-division courses": ENG 235 and 236 (American Literature) and HSHU 102, 203, and 204 (University Honors). One upper-division course in writing (e.g., ENG 301, 302, 326, 327) may be included among the courses for the concentration. ENG 331, 332, 333, 431 and 432 are open only to English concentrators. View complete course offerings and course descriptions.

1. A minimum grade point average of 2.5 is required in ENG 231 and 232.
2. Concentrators who have received a grade of C or lower in the 100-level writing course (101, 103, 105) are required to include among their upper-division English offerings a course in expository or argumentative writing (ENG 326 or 327).
3. English concentrators are required to pass a comprehensive examination given in the second (spring) semester of senior year. Click here for details about the senior comprehensive examination.
Special Characters

Click to add a special character
Paste From a Word Doc

Click here to paste information from a Microsoft Word Document

Requirements

Eng 231 and 232 (History of English Literature)
Two courses from the group 331, 332, and 333 (Intensive Readings in Lyric, Drama, and Narrative)
351 or 352 (Chaucer and His Age)
431 (Plays of Shakespeare)
Four other upper-division courses in English or American Language and Literature

Besides courses in English and American literature numbered 300 and above, two of the following courses carrying lower numbers may be used to fulfill part of the requirement for "four upper-division courses": ENG 235 and 236 (American Literature) and HSHU 102, 203, and 204 (University Honors). One upper-division course in writing (e.g., ENG 301, 302, 326, 327) may be included among the courses for the concentration. ENG 331, 332, 333, 431 and 432 are open only to English concentrators. View complete course offerings and course descriptions.

1. A minimum grade point average of 2.5 is required in ENG 231 and 232.
2. Concentrators who have received a grade of C or lower in the 100-level writing course (101, 103, 105) are required to include among their upper-division English offerings a course in expository or argumentative writing (ENG 326 or 327).
3. English concentrators are required to pass a comprehensive examination given in the second (spring) semester of senior year. Click here for details about the senior comprehensive examination.
Paste From a Word Doc

Paste the content in the box, and click OK
Other Features

- View HTML
- Spell Check
- Add an image

Eng 231 and 232 (History of English Literature I and II)
Two courses from the group 331, 332, and 333 (Intensive Readings in Lyric, Drama, and Narrative) 351 or 352 (Chaucer and His Age)
431 (Plays of Shakespeare)
Four other upper-division courses in English or American Language and Literature

Besides courses in English and American literature numbered 300 and above, two of the following courses carrying lower numbers may be used to fulfill part of the requirement for "four upper-division courses": ENG 235 and 236 (American Literature) and HSHU 102, 203, and 204 (University Honors). One upper-division course in writing (e.g., ENG 301, 302, 326, 327) may be included among the courses for the concentration. ENG 331, 332, 333, 431, and 432 are open only to English concentrators. View complete course offerings and course descriptions.

1. A minimum grade point average of 2.5 is required in ENG 231 and 232.
2. Concentrators who have received a grade of C or lower in the 100-level writing course (101, 103, 105) are required to include among their upper-division English offerings a course in expository or argumentative writing (ENG 326 or 327).
3. English concentrators are required to pass a comprehensive examination given in the second (spring) semester of senior year. Click here for details about the senior comprehensive examination.
Submit Changes

Click to Submit Changes

Click Discard Changes if you do not want to save the changes
Return to Page Manager

For more information contact Rosalia Webb at webba@cua.edu